Selectmen's Meeting

OCTOBER 30, 1984 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

ART'S ALIVE - '85

In looking ahead to 1985, two members of the Mattapoisett Arts Lottery Committee, who disperse the Massachusetts Arts Lottery grant, met with Selectmen last Tuesday to present plans for an all-day event to be held some time in May.

Arts Committee Chairman Rick Mitchell deferred the explanation to Mrs. Lois Murray who has spearheaded the idea and who was last year's chairman.

Mrs. Murray said the day's events will be aimed at stimulating the arts in town. Among the events will be dance, rock and chamber music; art work of adults and of children; poetry reading; special story-telling for children. "We see it either on a Saturday or Sunday as a real fun day for the whole family", said Mrs. Murray. She added that the idea stemmed from the 1975 Christmas in the Village which proved such a success. The day probably will conclude with a band concert. She noted the weather won't be a problem as the programs will be held inside.

"We hope to bring in some out-of-town talent who will perform three or four times during the day. We hope to present programs that some people may not otherwise get a chance to see," Mrs. Murray said.

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta said, speaking for the Board, "I feel it's a wonderful idea. And we're all for it." He added that notices in the Presto Press will let former Mattapoisett residents or summer residents who receive the paper know about the event and come back here for the day.

Selectmen Frank Suzan and James F. Huntoon commented that the schools could become involved and perhaps the Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School could make signs listing the day's activities. Both Mitchell and Mrs. Murray agreed to this idea. They added that they welcomed any ideas that Selectmen might have for making the day a successful one.

The source of the funds for such events as "Art's Alive - '85" are derived from the sale of Megabucks state lottery tickets. Each town in Massachusetts receives a certain amount, Mrs. Murray explained.

She said, "The Massachusetts Arts Lottery started about two-and-a-half years ago with the formation of a committee in certain towns to dispense the funds for worthwhile artistic purposes. The Mattapoisett Committee is comprised of Ann Briggs, Bette Roberts, Francis Gordon, Lois Murray and Rick Mitchell, chairman.

The committee's function is to review requests and applications for the funds. After the committee approves the idea it is submitted to the State Lottery Commission for its acceptance or refusal. Of late, said Mrs. Murray, the applications have been of a personal nature and not for the benefit of the community as a whole.

Among the projects the Mattapoisett Arts Committee has helped has been the purchase of books for the Public Library; bringing an author of children's books to speak at the library; sheet music for the town band and the Tri-County band. Mrs. Murray noted the committee expects its next allotment to be sent by January 1, 1985. "We have approved six-year old daughter's sandbox, which Mr. Ferreira claimed could have caused a rash on his daughter's leg. The father said his daughter was frightened by a dog in another incident when she was two years old and she is now terrified of dogs.

The order will also be sent to D. Preston Valley, owner of the property where the alleged complaint took place, and Alice Walsh, who lives at 75 Acushnet Road.

Mr. Ferreira said there are 20 acres of land around his property so there is no reason why people should walk their dogs on his property. He said he had to call Joseph Caton, the dog officer, on numerous occasions. Mr. Garcia claimed his dogs were either on a leash or under his control when out of the yard and did not mess in the Ferreira's sandbox.

Garcia, who formerly lived in New Bedford, told Selectmen that his older dog is licensed in that city but a dog he obtained three weeks ago has not been licensed. Selectmen ordered him to license both dogs in Mattapoisett within 30 days.

Selectman Huntoon said "Harmony of the neighborhood is important." This will be stressed in the letters to Valley, Walsh, Garcia and Ferreira, said Huntoon.

APPOINTED David E. Crook, 24 Stewart Road, Rochester, as the new Building Inspector to replace R. Scott Armbruster who resigned due to the pressure of his business. The appointment will take effect immediately.

Crook has been involved in the building trade since 1965 when he worked as a carpenter for Everett Ellis, East Freetown contractor; from 1970 to 1972 as a carpenter with Acushnet contractor Donald Desroches; and from 1972 to the present he has been operating his own business. He said he has built over 30 homes, half of which are in Mattapoisett.

Chairman DeCosta said he has seen Crook's work and it is all very well done. Selectman Huntoon said he would like to see a little result was to provide enough information and discussion that would allow each participant to reach a decision based on facts and issues rather than images and personality.

Several fourth grade students, involved in the LIFT program, developed and defined several issues including the question of nuclear defense, taxes, the deficit, and social security cuts. Each child became a reporter, presenting only the facts on both sides of the issue. It was interesting to see how the children questioned each candidate's stand on the issue and how they struggled to reach a conclusion they could defend by virtue of facts - not feelings.

The fifth graders became involved with questions of (1) a candidate's image as presented by the media and political advertisements; (2) barnstorming - where the candidates would appear and why, and (3) polling. A small group of students devised a poll which included children as well as adults. Some of the questions included the effect of the debates on voters (2-1 saw no effect on their vote); the fairness of the press in campaign coverage (2-1 believed it fair), a willingness to vote for a woman for President (3½-1 in favor), and a presidential preference (2½-1 Reagan).

The information gathered was shared in class discussions and by bulletin boards veterans and one newcomer in sophomore Julie Holden. Mr. Cameron said, "I really didn't expect such a fast start this season since we lost four outstanding students to graduation: Carmen Gracia (Harvard), Laurie Watjen (MIT), Luz Jackivicz (UMass) and Melanie Johnson (UVt). This year's team will have to battle from start to finish and that's how they've started. They have a great deal of pride and determination and I'm proud of every one of them."

BOSTON SAXOPHONE QUARTET
CLOSES BANK'S CONCERT SERIES

Combine the intimacy of a 19th century Drawing Room with the 20th century sound of a highly polished saxophone quartet and the result is the long awaited appearance of Leonard Rodnofsky and three of his colleagues in the final concert of the Fairhaven Savings Bank's fall series at the Rotch-Jones-Duff House Museum Friday, November 9, at 8 p.m. The concert is free to the public. Doors open at 7:30 p.m.

of the school's prize for Concerto Competition. Tenor Saxophonist Peter Cokkinias has performed with the Boston Symphony, Ballet & Opera, the Springfield Symphony and has conducted the Boston Pops, the Greater Marlboro Symphony and the Boston Civic Symphony. Steve Young, who plays Baritone Saxophone with the Quartet, also plays the Bassoon with the Opera Company of Boston and teaches at the Berklee College of Music. He has performed with the Santa Fe Opera and the Boston Symphony at Tanglewood.

Under Radnofsky's leadership, the Boston Saxophone Quartet recently provided the soundtrack for the critically acclaimed PBS TV special, "The Cafeteria", for the American Playhouse; and participated in the celebration of Bach's 300th Anniversary with a performance of The Art of Fugue in the Chapel of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The sponsorship of this year's Spring, Summer and Fall concert series by the Fairhaven Savings Bank supports the concept of a "living" house museum at the beautiful and historic Rotch-Jones-Duff mansion at 396 County Street in New Bedford. This enables the Waterfront Historic Area League to offer the concerts at no charge to the public. The

Nature Film Premiere

The premiere showing of an internationally acclaimed nature film shot in India will take place on November 18 in the auditorium/theatre at Southeastern Massachusetts University. Vividly, dramatically depicting the rich and varied wildlife of the tropical sub-continent, the film was two years in the making, the combined effort of the Indian government and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

It will be presented here under the aegis of the S.M.U. Foundation for the direct benefit of two community-oriented groups, The Children's Museum and the Natural Resources Trust, both of Dartmouth.

The prestigious event will be the culmination of months of negotiation to bring the documentary here with Jerry Bertrand, President of Massachusetts Audubon Society, to narrate it live, on stage and commenting as the action is screened. It was Mr. Bertrand who originated the idea for the film, the scope and depth of which has never before been attempted in India. He has titled it BIRDS OF THE INDIAN MONSOON, and was its on-scene director and wildlife consultant.

The film follows the changing seasons of the year in the area of Bharatpur, with emphasis on actions and interactions of many forms of wildlife, not birds alone, in response to the weather's changes, all of which are greatly influenced by or dependent on the life-sustaining monsoon cycle. Pythons, five species of vultures, the rare Siberian crane, the ring-tailed fishing eagle and numerous other birds, animals and amphibians are featured in the many breath-taking and beautiful filmed sequences. The superb photography is the work of the world-renowned Australian camerman Stanley Breedon and his India-born wife Belinda.

The November 18th show will start at 3:30 p.m. General admission will be $5.; $3. for students.

VOYAGES PROGRAM FOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies invites high school students to join in our Voyages program. The first Voyage will be an exciting trip to the Washington, D.C. and Chesapeake Bay area from December 17 to the 21st. Lloyd Center staff will conduct the group through experiences on a research vessel on the Chesapeake Bay, through the Smithsonian Institute's Environmental Research Labs, and through highlights of the Federal Government's Environmental Agencies. This five-day program costs $225.00 per student ($215.00 for Lloyd Center members) and limited scholarships are available.

The group will depart by van from the Lloyd Center on December 17 under the supervision of Marie Arnold, Outreach Program Coordinator for the Lloyd Center. The group will stay at Camp Letts in Annapolis, Maryland, a short drive from both Washington, D.C. and Baltimore, Maryland, but located right on the Chesapeake Bay. The Bay is the largest estuary on the east coast with over 1,000 miles of shoreline, a very large fishing industry, and is the wintering grounds for many thousands of waterfowl. In addition, Chesapeake Bay is the nursery for 95% of the striped bass which swim past northeast shores in the summer.

Because of the close proximity of Camp Letts to the Bay and our nation's capital, this program will be able to allow students to visit our nation's capital and spend an extensive amount of time both in the field and on the water. The National Aquarium in Baltimore, the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. and the Environmental Research Labs of the Smithsonian are included in this program.

Under the supervision of educators of the Chesapeake Bay Foundation, we will explore the coast and waterways of the Bay. We will collect fish, crabs, and sample water to learn about what lives in this very important resource. The Bay is highly polluted and, therefore, the fish and fisheries of this area are threatened. Tuition includes all costs of instruction, all meals and lodging in heated cabins, all transportation costs and reference materials for each student. A Saturday preparation workshop will also be held prior to departure.

For further information contact Marie Arnold at 990-0505. Contributions to this program are welcome including scholarship

DUNE ECOLOGY WALK AT HORSENECK BEACH

The Lloyd Center announces a free interpretive walk on the dune ecology of Horseneck Beach on Sunday, November 11, at 1:30 p.m. Participants are asked to meet at the Lloyd Center, 430 Potomska Road for an introductory program prior to car-pooling to the beach itself. To register for this walk call the Lloyd Center at 990-0505. This walk, as all Lloyd Center Sunday Walks, i open to the public and you do not need to be a Lloyd Center member to participate.

The Horseneck Beach area of Westport is unique in many ways. The dune system includes a series of zones from the ocean to the road and the marshes, a system not found excessively anywhere else in the Fall River - Greater New Bedford area. At this time of the year many northern bird species including the very large and beautiful day time owl, the snowy owl, can sometimes be seen near the Park. The pines and other vegetation serve as feeding stations and shelter for many northern wanderers who migrate to our area for the winter.

In addition to the vegetation and bird life, there is a diversity of wild-life activity which can be observed at this time of year which is not always in evidence when the Park is filled with summer crowds. Small mammals and insects become active in the warmth of the day. Some butterflies can still be seen in the air over the dunes. Along the shore the wrack line often includes evidence of off-shore life which fall storms bring up onto the beach.

For additional information on this or any other Lloyd Center activity call the Center. The building is open Tuesday through Sunday, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

STAGES "PRISONER OF SECOND AVENUE"

"The Prisoner of Second Avenue" is a play that makes comments as well as its quota of laughs. Neil Simon's crazy zoo is New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Edison, who find the madness of the city creeping in through the window cracks like the noise and the dust, have all the frustration, the anxiety and the lunacy of the world we live in. The fantasy in the role of Mel is matched by the patience of his wife, Edna, who gives both the comedy and the frustration of the play.

The winning ingredient is a vivid, attractive contemporaneity, a very New York sense of what's happening now. Behind Simon's light-hearted charades are persons we recognize in today's cityscapes. Simon gives us a realistic and compassionate comedy. In many ways this is the most mature and reflective of his hits. It has perfectly captured the hysterical mood of New York. It has depicted a sick city with deadly accuracy, wild wit, and a curious and gentle grace.

Neil Simon, the master-jokesmith of American show business, who regularly has to remove laugh-lines from his plays to let his audiences catch their breath, has left enough rib-ticklers in this comedy to keep you in stitches. Laugh until you cry at Theatre One's production of "The Prisoner of Second Avenue" at 8 p.m. on November 15, 16, 17, 23, 24, 30 and December 1 at the Grange Hall, Route 105, North Main Street in Middleboro. Tickets are available at the door. Discount night is Thursday; special group rates are also available. For further information call 947-5091.

THEATRE ONE'S CHILDREN'S THEATRE PRESENTS "RUMPELSTILTSKIN"

Tickets, $3.00 for adults and $2.00 for children, will be available at the door. Call 947-5091 for more information.

the Elisa Monte Dance Company has received rave reviews from critics across the country and around the world. The New York Times exclaimed the company was "Delirously received! A tour de force!". The Washington Post stated, "Eliza Monte's choreography is demonstrative, energetic, and mesmerizing!"

Elisa Monte, artistic director and choreographer of the Elisa Monte Dance Company, began her performing career with Agnes DeMille. Since then she has toured the United States and Europe with the Pilobolus Dance Theatre, the Lar Lubovitch Dance Company and the Martha Graham Dance Company, with whom she was a principal dancer from 1975-1982. While with the Graham Company, she danced many of the major roles in the repertory.

Her first choreographic effort was a collaborative work with Pilobolus, Molly's Not Dead, premiered at the American Dance Festival in 1978. Also that year, she was featured as a solo artist in the New York Dance Umbrella. Ms. Monte's duet Treading was premiered at the Martha Graham Dance Company's Choreographic Series in February of 1979. She and partner David Brown were invited to repeat their performance as part of the Delacorte's 1979 New York Dance Festival. In 1980, Ms. Monte founded the Eliza Monte Dance company and toured a program of her works, entitled Singles and Doubles, throughout Great Britain, sponsored by the London Dance Umbrella. Her company then appeared as part of the New York Dance Umbrella season in April, 1981.

In the spring of 1981 Treading was taken into the repertory of the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre. The following year, Mr. Ailey commissioned Ms. Monte to choreograph Pigs and Fishes for his spring 1982 season. Her full-length Pell Mell with ten dancers is in the current repertory of the Maryland Dance Theatre.

In 1983 she created a commissioned work for the Gulbenkian Foundation in Portugal.

Both Pigs and Fishes and Treading, two of the company's most acclaimed dance pieces, will be performed at the Zeiterion Theatre. Set in Stone and White Dragon will also be performed.

Tickets are $12., $10. and $8.; senior/ child, $8. For tickets call the Zeiterion Theatre box office at 994-2900.

on mando-cello.

Sponsored by the SMU Eisteddfod Concerts, the performance will benefit the Southeastern Massachusetts Folk Song Society.

All three musicians are specialists in Irish music and have a deep affection for it. Skip Healy for many years played the fife with the Kentish Guards Fife and Drum Corps. In 1975 he was accepted into the Old Guard Fife and Drum Corps, a presidential honor guard, but chose to go to Walt Disney World as a musician instead. There he became interested in Irish music and blended the styles of the American fife and the traditional Irish flute into a new chromatic sound. He won the Connecticut state and national championships on the fife in 1980.

Tony Morris plays on the fiddle, mandolin, pipes, flute, and mando-cello. He has recorded with the Morgans, a group from Hartford, Connecticut, Jim Douglas from the Kincora group, and the great Seamus Kennedy.

Tobey Hospital Guild

CELEBRATES 43rd BIRTHDAY

Tobey Hospital Guild members held their monthly meeting at the Tobey Homestead on October 25th. The day commemorated the 43 years of the Guild's existence with special tribute to Mrs. Ann LaRocque, Chairman of the Hospital Gift Shop.

Mrs. LaRocque joined Guild President Mrs. Ruth Kelenosy in cutting the birthday cake prepared for the occasion by Hospital Chef Gilly Mello. Later the President presented a basket of plants to Mrs. LaRocque in appreciation for her 8500 volunteer hours to Tobey over the last 24 years.

In 1960 Mrs. LaRocque began her volunteer duties at Tobey. That was before the SKII Wing was built and before the Gift Shop existed. Then Mrs. LaRocque helped in various capacities, making beds, assisting with patients, and overseeing the display counter in the Old Lobby where candy, gum, and other small gift items were sold.

With the addition of the SKII Wing in 1972, the Gift Shop, as we know it today, came to be. Mrs. LaRocque agreed at that time to take charge of its entire operation on a temporary basis. She has been there ever since. Despite the work involved in ordering supplies, stocking the shelves, and decorating the shop for holidays, Mrs. LaRocque loves her job. "What would I do without Tobey", she said. "It's become a second home to me."

According to Ann, teamwork renders the shop successful. Mrs. Sylvia Camandona, Guild member and Director of Medical Records at Tobey, is the shop Treasurer and Book-

In addition to the shop hours from 11:30 to 4:00 and 6:30 to 8:00 p.m., a volunteer takes the gift cart to the patient floors. Both the shop shelves and the cart are stocked with handmade gifts, magazines, candy, chips, and gum, toiletries, and many other gift items.

As if all the hours she gives to the Gift Shop weren't enough, Mrs. LaRocque knits many of the mittens and gloves in the shop herself. All donations of handmade items are kindly accepted.

Through the years the Tobey Hospital Guild has generously contributed thousands of volunteer hours and thousands of dollars to the Hospital. Their faith in and support of our community Hospital is demonstrated in all they give and in all they do. Many selfless hours are spent coordinating fund-raisers that enable the Guild to refurbish rooms, purchase equipment, and sponsor an educational fund for employees and a scholarship for area high school nursing students. The Gift Shop is one adjunct of the Guild. The Guild provides flowers for every patient and for the Meditation Room and lends its support to many

SMU Autoharp Concert

Bryan Bowers will play the autoharp in concert at Southeastern Massachusetts University on November 9th at 8 p.m. in the South Alcove of the SMU Campus Center.

Using a five-finger picking technique across 36 tightly wound strings, he is widely regarded as the leading virtuoso on the autoharp in the folk idiom. Bowers plays many of the old songs, such as "Dixie", "Grandfather's Clock", and Stephen Foster, as well as contemporary music of his own composing such as the powerful "Prisoner Song". He plays and sings them at festivals across the country.

His concert is sponsored by SMU's Eisteddfod and the Program Council.

For ticket information call the SMU ticket office at 999-8136.

PLAYWRIGHT'S WORKSHOP BEGINS AT PBT

The Play's the Thing at Priscilla Beach Theatre in Plymouth this season as the theatre is launching a new playwrighting/acting workshop for adults beginning November 8 - December 23 on Thursday evenings at 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Individuals who wish to register may call the theatre at 224-4888.

This season, workshop members will work with guest playwright/director Richard Sullivan in mounting and showcasing his newest contemporary work, "Merely, a Man". The aim of the workshop is to give advanced adult actors the opportunity not only to develop and practice their acting skills but to work intensively with an ensemble of actors in mounting an original work in progress. The workshop will perform their work on December 21, 22, 23 at 8:30 p.m. on the Theatre's Le Studio Stage. PBT Producer Anne Joelle states, "The Playwright's Workshop will be the vehicle for the Theatre each season to showcase a new playwright's work for Broadway production. The workshop will be able to display to Broadway producers various style of properties which can be considered for a 'transfer' to the New York Stage."

Actors may call 224-4888 or write PBT, Box 424, Whitehorse Beach, Mass. 02381 for further information concerning the workshop. Priscilla Beach Theatre is a professional non-profit school of Drama which does not discriminate according to sex, color, religion, race, or nationality.

STUDENTS OF INTERIOR DESIGN PROGRAM

Lynn Paulsen and Joanna Severance, both of Marion, are among the 93 students of the Interior Design program at Chamberlayne Junior College in Boston who have joined the student chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers (ASID), it has been announced by Professor Herbert T. Anderson, chairperson of the department.

Chapter activities include field trips and meetings with speakers from resource organizations and the professional fields of design.

In addition, the students are invited to attend the society's monthly meetings to meet professional designers and participate in its other activities.

Graduates of the three-year Professional Certificate program at Chamberlayne are automatically granted associate membership in ASID upon submission of transcripts.

The college, which is located in Boston's Back Bay, serves students with both career and more traditional academic interests.
